Gen. Harrison and California Cab net Stock Jamps Up to Par-A Sensational

By Telegraph to The Times.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.-[By the Associated Press.] The President today sent to Congress the correspondence in the Lord Sack-ville matter, with a purely formal letter of transmission. The correspondence opens with a copy of the Murchison letter and Lord Sackville's reply thereto.

On October 25th Secretary Bayard, in a telegram, directs Minister Phelps to invite Lord Salisbury's attention to the Murchison letter, and to express the confident reliance of this Government upon the action of Her Majesty's Government in the matter.

On the following day Secretary Bayard telegraphs to Minister Phelps that West's usefulness to this country is at an end; that strong public sentiment has been aroused, and Lord Salisbury should be permitted as and Lord Salisbury should be permitted as speedily as possible to understand the necessity of immediate action.

Under date of October 28th Minister Phelps telegraphs Secretary Bayard that Lord Salisbury decilnes to act until he is in receipt of the precise language of Lord Sackville and his explanations. Lord Salisbury does not regard the Minister's letter alone as sufficient to warrant his recall, thus ending his diplomatic career, which would not necessarily be the case if he were dismissed by the Government of the United States; for, of course, there are precedents. Phelps states that there will be long delays, with no decisive result, if dependence is placed on the movement of the British Government, and advises that action be taken upon the intimation of Lord Salisbury.

The correspondence then gives the report of Secretary Bayard to the President on the conduct of Lord Sackville, which has been published heretofore.

SACKVILLE GETS HIS PASSPOET.

SACKVILLE GETS HIS PASSPORT.

Under date of October 30th, Bayard writes
Lord Sackville:

"My Lord: The President of the United States has instructed me to inform you that for good and sufficient causes, which are known to yourself, and have been duly brought to the knowledge of your Government, he has with great regret become convinced that it would be incompatible with the best interests, and detrimental to the good relations of both Governments, that you should any longer bold your present official position in the United States, and that accordingly the Government of her Britannic Majesty will without delay be informed of this determination, in order that another channel may be established for the transmission of such communications as may be found desirable by the two governments in the transaction of their business.
Whenever it is your pleasure to depart from the United States, I am instructed to furnish you with the usual facilities, and with that view I now beg leave to inclose a passport in the customary form." On the same day Lord Sackville replies to Bayard acknowledging the receipt of his letter.

Under date of October 31 st, Secretary Bayard communicates to Minister Phelps, giving the statements of the Murchison correspondence, and says: "Such an answer to such a letter can only be characterized as a gross breach of diplomatic privilege and unjustifiable abuse of his Lordship's position here as the accredited envoy of a friendly power. He dangerously invaded the exclusive sovereignty of this country over its own soil, its own citizens and its affairs of the deepest moment."
On November 1st Lord Salisbury asks for more definite information in regard to what Minister West had done, and says he cannot take action until he receives fuller particulars.
On December 5th last Phelps forwards
Secretary Bayard a copy of a note to lord. Under date of October 30th, Bayard writes Lord Sackville:

BAYARD HAS THE LAST WORD.

Inclosed in this letter is Sackville's comment upon the Murchison letter, which has already been published. The correspondence closes with a letter from Bayard to Phelps, dated January 30, 1889, acknowledging the receipt of the reply of the Marquis of Salisbury. Secretary Bayard in this letter states fully the views of this Government in respect to the grounds of Lord Sackville's dismissal. He quotes liberally from the Murchison letter, and sharply criticises the reply of Lord Sackville thereto. He says: "The correspondence not only constituted an unprecedented interference in our domestic politics, but it contained gross impurments of the President's public course. Hence, had the objectionable conduct of Lord Sackville ended with his reply to the Murchison letter, the situation would have been sufficiently serious. But in the various statements made by him to representatives of the public press, his impugnments of the action of this Government were emphaof the public press, his impugnments of the action of this Government were emphasized."

The Secretary then proceeds to the consideration of that part of the Marquis of Salisbury's note laying down the rule which, in his opinion, governs the dismissal of diplomatic agents, and says: "The offense of Lord Sackville consisted in personal misconduct, wholly inconsistent with official duty and relations, of which no suggestion of approval by this Government has yet been intimated. This present issue is not whether it is requisite that a sovereign asking the recall of a foreign minister should give reasons for the application, but whether, when, as in the present case, such recall has been asked on the ground of interference in the politics of the country to which he is accredited, the question of culpability or the degree of such interference, is to be left, not to the decision of the offended sovereign, but to the determination of the sovereign by whom the offending minister was accredited."

In conclusion the Secretary says: "An tion of the sovereign by whom the offending minister was accredited."

In conclusion the Secretary says: "An envoy is intended to be a confidential intermediary between the two governments professing friendly relations, in a reliance upon his good faith the assurance of continued amity and good understanding will be found. It cannot, therefore, be justile be found. It cannot, therefore, be justile regarded as a cause of international offense to request the recall of an envoy whenever it is discovered that his conduct has been such as to unsettle the confidence of the receiving government nor for that government to dismiss him whenever in its judgment circumstances have arisen, owing to his misconduct, which endanger its own safety and welfare or tend to jeopardize the good relations of the two governments."

The visit of Congressman William W. Morrow of California, and his long conference with Gen. Harrison today, has given new impetus to Cabinet speculations. The California Congressman said he came to protest at California and the Pacific Slope being left without representation in the Cabinet sax was currently reported. He would not admit that the President-elect had sent for him; in fact, he intim sted that he had not been sent for, but came as a representative of the California and Oregon delegations in Congress, and had notified Gen. Harrison by telegraph of his expected arrival. It was apparent from his conversation prior to his meeting the General that he had not been sent for, but came as a representative of the California and Defice of the was inclined to feel indignant at the suggestion that the slope had been left out in the Cabinet slate as at present arranged. There is no doubt that he brought with him a pocket full of letters, presents and petitions, from the Pacific Slope Uongressmen and Senators. He spent the morning with Gen. Harrison and was his guest at luncheon. After lunch the General took him out for a walk, calling at the Capitol and vlewing the city generally.

Early in the morning of the day of the last municipal election a "boodle"-room was opened in the Wilson block, on the southeast corner of Spring and Second streets. All day long, or until the polls were closed, strings of tough-looking cattle might have been seen going up one stairway and down the other. Each one of these vagabonds passed through the "boodle" room and carried out with him from $1.50 to $5 and a Democratic ticket neatly folded. Every man in the City Engineer's office was forced to contribute $10 to the campaign fund. Some of the boys kicked like bay steers, but they had to give up, and yesterday evening they were the sickest crowd in the city. Some of the boys are getting very small salaries, and $10 looks like a big sum to them, but the corrupt gang did not show any sympathy, making high and low come down alike. This kind of thing may work in San Francisco, but it won't go down with the good people of Los Angeles, and the sconer the boodle gang of the Democratic party get this through their corrupt heads the better will it be for them.

the Prohibitionists were quarreling among themselves, and the chances are that they will devote the whole of today to cutting each others' throats. Yesterday afternoon Dr. Bryant became disgusted with their queer methods and cut icose from them. The Doctor's move was a terrible blow to them, and weakened their cause more than apything else that has been done. Mr. Toberman was anxious to withdraw also, but they put up a long face, on account of having spent a good deal of money for the printing of their tickets, etc., and he finally consented to be slaughtered for the good of the cause.

The "Prebibs" and the "reformers" put Mr. Toberman at the head of their tickets stamply because they are of the opinion that he will be able to carry the workingmen's vote. They know that he did some years ago, when he was elected Mayor, but Los Angeles today and Los Angeles tony was also go are very different places. Mr. Toberman at that time was fresh from a Santa Cruz sawmill, where he worked hard all week and splurged around Santa Cruz on bundays in a silk hat, and broadcloth coat, and the workingmen thought he was a great man. But he has become a rich man since, and has never done anything for the laboring men of this city. The "Prohibs" could hardly claim Mr. Toberman as one of their lambs, for he is not so small of gizzard that he will not take a drink whenever he feels so inclined, and for these reasons it looks as if the whole thing is a Democratic scheme to draw the workingmen's vote away from the Republican party. It's one of their ioid tricks, but it won't work this time.

It might be well for the judges and inspectors of the election to look out for voters' certificates today, as the Democrats have run in a lot of cattle since the supplement to the Great Register was closed, and they will attempt to vote them today, which is strictly against the law. No one should be allowed to vote today unless he is on the Great Register or the supplement. Great Register or the supplement.

BLENNERHASSETT TALKS. Last night Blennerhassett, the well-know politician, attempted to address a crowd politician, attempted to address a crowd from the Courthouse steps. He narrated in choice and terse Anglo-Saxon the qualities which should be present in the bosom of the man who presides over the destinies of Los Angeles, and painted in glowing and alcoholic tones the dire fate which would pefall the freemen who should disregard the traditions which had descended from the witenagemote. Cunningly the moribund orator refrained from mentioning the name of the man who combined in his one small body, as the recorded schoolmaster in of the man who combined in his one small body, as the recorded schoolmaster in his one small head, all the virtues, barring two sons on the police force, until he had, as he thought, fixed the crowd. Then he brought out with unction the name of Mayor Bryson as his favorite "hiss" in the race. When the lips of the orator had closed, however, the crowd yelled "Rats!" and melted away as a Los Angeles fog before the noonday sun, and in the cold moonlight Blenner was observed to fold his tent and steal away.

A MONKEY-AND-PARROT TIME.

ular monkey-and-parret time in this campaign. In the first place, they wanted to assess the candidates in the aggregate some $7000, of which Mayor Bryson was to pay $1500. This raised a big kick, and it was finally set down. Then another firebrand was thrown into the camp by J. Marion Brooks moving that that hideous nightmare, the Cactus, be paid $1000 for its support. This modest proposition was also squelched, but the brethren are very far from being happy, and it has taken all the diplomacy in the party to prevent an open outbreak.

WEST ENDERS.

It is said that a large number of regular Republican and Democratic tickets have Republican and Democratic tickets have been printed with the name of James Hanley, the independent Democratic candidate for Councilman, for distribution in the First Ward, and that it is the scheme to flood the tables with these bogus tickets. Republican voters should see that the name of H. H. Van Duzen, the regular Republican nominee, is on every ticket before it is deposited in the ballot box.

A CHANGE IN THE TICKET. The name of R. J. Northam, Republican nominee for the school board in the Eighth nominee for the school board in the Eighth Ward, has been withdrawn and the name of John A. Kingsley substituted. It was learned that Mr. Northam had not been resident of the ward the requisite length of time, he having only lived there about seven or eight months, when a year is the specified time. The error was not discovered until last evening, when the change was at once made.

"BACKSHEESH" FROM CHINATOWN. It was reported yesterday that one or two members of the police force made a tour through Chinatown Tuesday night, soliciting subscriptions to the Democratic campaign fund. The Mongois contributed from 50 cents to $2 and $3, according to their means, and yesterday made no secret of what they had done.

THAT CASH FUND.

A Transcript From the City Auditor's Books
On Sunday morning last THE TIMES published an arraignment of the present city government for reckless extravagance in was backed up by the official figures in the books of the city. The Herald of Tuesday morning, in editorially answering the article in question, after a few gratuitous remarks about lying and prevarications on the part of its contemporary, proceeds to demonstrate that it is "something of a liar itself," and proceeds to give some figures of its own to support its assertions. The Times article stated that the disbursements for the eash fund for January amounted to $25,49,22. The Herald says that "as a matter of fact" the warrants drawn on the cash fund for that month only amounted to $16,406,95, a difference of just $6148. The Times stated that the expenditures on cash fund for the first week in February footed up $13,450,88. The Herald says that, as a matter of fact, this amount was drawn from all the funds, and not on the cash fund alone, and that it included $2200 paid for the publication of the delinquent tax list. The Herald then goes on to say that, with a very much less police force, the warrants drawn arainst the cash fund for January a year ago amounted to $15,113,72, and follows it up with other figures in the same vein. For the benefit of the Herald it might be well to state that the police are paid out of the salary fund, as are all other salaries, and that they cut no figure on the cash fund at all, which fact was made very clear in The Times article. The records are, however, the best evidence, and the following exact copy from ledgers Nos. 2 and 3, in the City Auditor's office, which can be verified by any taxpayer who will take the interest to investigate the matter will show that in every case the figures of Time Times were correct and every assertion made by it fully sustained:

The following applications for transfers of saloon licenses were granted: Joe Arnold, 411 East First street, to No. 143; Snyder & Co., 266 South Spring, to 17 South Main; H. Dunuy, Alameda street, to H. Oliver; Scheim Bros., 207 North Main street, to McCarthy & Mather.

E. Adams was granted a saloon license for a place on Los Angeles street, at the Club stable, and E. Goyeteno for a place on Ceros street, in the Wolfskill tract.

A protest was presented from fruit dealers protesting against stands on the street, and the Chief of Police was instructed to enforce the ordinance against them, and have them removed.

It was recommended that the Council advertise for bids for furnishing meals for the city prisoners, Koster, who had the contract, having failed and gone out of business.

No action was taken in the matter of keeping police officers out of politics, nor was anything said of the open and flagrant manner in whitch public decency is being offended by allowing the tan games to run without let or hindrance, as well as the white games, and the further fact that members of the police force are openly canvassing for subscriptions for the Democratic campaign fund was also passed over without comment.

CHARLES GASSEN

INDICTED FOR BUYING STOLES CATTLE.

The Arraignment That a Grand Jury Legal Technicality That Saved His Bacon-A Pretty Candidate for Councilman

The Democratic candidate for Councilman in the Third Ward is Charles Gassen. Gassen is not entirely unknown to fame bear evidences of his handiwork which ca never be effaced. Before he became a citi-zen of Los Angeles Gassen resided a num-ber of years in San Diego county, and there are not wanting many prominent citizens of that ceunty, among them some of his old-time partners in business, who say that if Gassen had his just deserts today he would be serving the State.

Gassen has been in the butcher business in Los Angeles almost ever since he settled here, and if the opinions of a grand jury are to be taken as a criterion he has not been over particular about the ownership of the cattle that he bought and slaughtered. slaughtered.

The following is taken from the official court records:

This indictment was presented and filed in open court September 18, 1885.

Defendant was arraigned October 2, 1885, and given until October 6th to plead.

October 6th defendant, on his own motion, was granted until October 12, 1885, to plead.

October 12th demurrer filed by defendant and overruled. Plea of not guilty entered.

December 1st defendant, by counsel, moved to continue case for term, on the ground of defendant's sickness. Motion granted.

ground of defendant's sickness. Motion granted.

On the 23d day of Fébruary, 1886, Gassen filed an ailidavit reciting the proceedings in the case thus far, and alleged:

"That, after the filing of said indictment and entering said plea, about one month or thereabouts, he came into possession of certain facts regarding the conduct of the Grand Jury that found the indictment against him which convinced him that the act of said Grand Jury was lilegal. The alleged lapse consisted in the against him which convinced him that the act of said Grand Jury was illegal. The alleged lapse consisted in the fact that Stephen M. White, Esq., whom defendant sileged was 'an employed private attorney for and on behalf of certain persons hostile to said defendant," appeared before the Grand Jury and certain witness; that said Stephen M. White was not a legally constituted officer, entitled to appear before the Grand Jury.

This affidavit was answered in a counter affidavit by Stephen M. White, in which he alleged that he had been regularly appointed a deputy district attorney by George M. Holton, the District Attorney, who was obliged to be absent at Sacramento at the time Gassen's case came before the Grand Jury; that Holton appointed him for the especial purpose of examining the Gassen case, and that, after its conclusion, affiant endered his resignation, which was accepted.

The Court held that if this appointment.

tendered his resignation, which was accepted.

The Court held that, if this appointment and this qualification under it were valid and legal, the acts performed by Stephen M. White were within the rights given to the District Attorney and his deputy, and the Court did not consider and did not intimate that there had been any intentional wrong done, or anything of that sort. It was called upon simply to pass upon the legal aspect. The Court thought that this appointment was the appointment of a deputy district attorney with limited powers, and that such an appointment was unknown to law.

On this technicality the motion to set deputy district attorney with limited powers, and that such an appointment was unknown to law.

On this technicality the motion to set aside the indictments was granted.

A second indictment (No. 451) was found against Gassen on the same charge, by the same forand Jury, and this indictment was set aside on the same motion.

Thus it appears that Gassen never came to trial on the indictments, found against him by the Grand Jury, of which ex-Mayor Workman was the foreman. Gassen squirmed and squirmed, and, as a last resort, his lawyer managed to pick a flaw in the indictment and, in this technicality, he secured a dismissal. So far as the merits of the case go, it is simply a South verdict of "not proven," because the prosecution never had a chance to prove it.

Francisco Valenzuela, indicted for cattle stealing by the same Grand Jury that found the true bill against Gassen, was convicted, in a trial by jury, Jahuary 8, 1886, and is now serving out a sentence in the State's prison.

In the case of Katz, an affidavit by Dr.

In the case of Katz, an affidavit by Dr. Lindley was submitted to the effect that he was suffering from consumption, and could not survive a long confinement and, on this plea, he was finally dismissed.

The case against Gassen never came to trial. If thad, he might be with Valenzuela today.

The W. Moore Young trial came to an end yesterday, having occupied over a week in the United States District Court. The morning was occupied by the argument of M. K. C. Munday of counsel for the defense. It was an able presentation of his client's case, and was one of the ablest arguments are more by Mr. Munin descense. It was an able presentation of his cilent's case, and was one of the ablest arguments ever made by Mr. Munday. He contrasted the characters of Young and the chief witness for the presecution, Eli B. Davis, and held the latter up to the scorn of the jury not only as unworthy of belief, but s naving sunk to the depth of 'mramy by inculpating his own father in the restimony in the crime, which he tried to swear out of by so doing. In reply to the District Attorney's deprecation of the presence of the defendant's wife by his side in the courtroom, Mr. Munday said that he could see no impropriety in that, and in a most effective manner exclaimed: "Where, in God's name, should a good wife be, in the position of this defendant, but by her husband's side?"

The arguments of counsel were concluded by District Attorney Denia, who reviewed the preceding arguments and likened them to the words of Gratiano, "a grain of wheat in two bushels of chaff." His closing argument was an amplification of his first argument was an amplification of his first argument was an asso a most effective-presentation of the Government's case. The District Attorney has earned deserved laureis in his admirable management of this important case.

Judge Ross, after instructing the jury,

At 5 o'clock the jury returned to the courtroom, and announced that it had agreed on a verdict. The defendant, with agreed on a verdict. The defendant, with his counsel, hung upon the words that were spoken as upon life, and the silence that greeted the announcement was painful. The verdict was that the defendant was guilty on the first count in the indictment, which embraced the few days in Angust, 1837, when the winery and distillery was in operation. The verdict was received in silence, Mr. Young evincing seeminerly but little emotion. As soon, hewever, as the jury field out, and the courtroom began to clear, the fortitude and maniliness which he had exhibited during 'the wearisome trial gave way. His wife, with evidently nor gard for the decision of the jurors, but with that regard for her husband which all men wish to see in their wives, went up to Mr. Young and with much womanly feeling and devoted action, gave him encouragement and consolation in probably the derives hour of his life. The stern and cold junicial atmosphere and few remaining spectators witnessed a scene that need not be described, but was eloquent in its mute sorrow.

The whole thing is cleverly arranged, and the spooks manager, or whatever he calls the spooks manager, or whatever he calls the popok manager, or whatever he calls when the spook manager, or whatever he calls when the popok manager, or whatever he calls when the popok manager, or whatever he calls when the popok manager, be described, but was eloquent in its mute sorrow.

The defendant was placed in charge of Marshal Risley, who left him with Deputy Marshal Tom Hays for the night. It was learned that connsel for the defense would make a motion this morning to Judge Ross for a new trial; and it is probable, although the Court made no announcement to that effect, that Mr. Young will receive his sentence today, if the motion is denied. The penaity of the offense of which the defendant has been convicted is imprisonment for from one to five years.

The verdict was a great surprise to all conversant with the case. It is evident that it was a compromise verdict. While the charge was divided into five counts, the counts related only to different months, August, September, October, November and December, 18-7. The charge was similar in each count. If Young was guilty in August, the question is, why was he not guilty in the other months? It is pretty well understood that the jury we silvided, some for acquittal, some for finding him guilty, and as a compromise, they found Young guilty of the least time, a few days in August, which, legally, they had a right to do.

As a matter of fact, however, the convic-

In August, which, legally, they had a right to do.

As a matter of fact, however, the conviction of W. Moore Young will create consternation among the other directors of the Fruttvale Wine and Fruit Company. If their secretary has been found guity on a criminal charge, they will be wondering when the strong arm of the United States Government, which was designated by counsel as the greatest on earth, will come down upon them. The prosecuting witness, Ell B. Davis, who turned State's evidence, is also probably wondering what his fate will be, as he is under indictment, and that of his aged father, president of the company, whom he swore was cognizant of the illicit business. This is notable as the first conviction in California for defrauding the revenue laws.

A Close have.
A little bootbiack named Jimmie Conhers, aged 13 years, had a narrow escape from a horrible death yesterday afternoon. The boy came down from San Francisco The boy came down from San Francisco about a week sgo, as he says, to see the country. He concluded to return yesterday, and, with two companions about his own age, got on top of the baggage car of the 1:45 train for the north. When the train got under good headway, and just as it was passing out of the yard, at the north end of the city, the boys concluded to come down and ride on the front platform of the "bilnd" baggage. Two of the youngsters got down all right, but when it came to Conner's turn he missed his hold in some way and fell between the cars, but caught on the coupling. The only damage he sustained was several crushed fingers on one hand. The train was stopped and the boy sent up town, when Dr. Choate attended to his injuries. He was then brought to the station and booked for inedical treatment. The little chap did not seem to realize his narrow escape, and was only annoyed because the other boys laughed at him when he fell.

Lummis Out of Danger.

Readers of THE TIMES have noted the telegraphic reports of the attempted assassination of Charles F. Lummis of the staff of this paper, which occurred in New Mexico last week. Dr. Dorothea Lummis, wife of Mr. Lummis, went to join him last Sunday. She telegraphs that he is improving, though still very weak. She thinks there is probably no further danger. This is the best of news for Mr. Lummis's associates and many friends in this city.

Twine in Frouble Again.
C. H. A pistol was found on his person, ind he was booked for carrying concealed weapons. He was afterward released on isil, an attorney named W. W. Taylor roung on his bond for $25.

A Burning Ash Harrel.

Last night between 8 and 9 o'clock an alarm of fire was turned in, caused by the burning of an ash barrel urstairs in the rear of Woodbury's Commercial College, on Spring street, near Third. The flames were first discovered by Thomas Gorevan, who was passing down Third street, and he at once ran up into the building, broke open the door, turned on the fire hose and put out the fire before any damage was done. The engines and hook and ladder turned out promptly, but there was no necessity for them.

CATARRH.

Catarrh is often rewarded by the patient as a cold in the head, and he often expresses his aston shment at his remarkable tendency to con race a fresh cold. Indeed, he deciares he is scarcely free from one cold before he takes another; and he is aways exceedingly careful. It is also a matter of surprise to him that the cold always seems to settle in the head and throat.

At times many of the symptoms of Catarrh may seem to abate, and the patient is led to hope that the disease is about to wear off; but acuther class of symptoms soon appear, and he learns to bits horror that instead of recovery from the disease it is somewhat changed in its character and has extended to the throat. Then it is a time when consumption is about to begin its dreadful work. Up to this point the progress of the disease may have been slow and the patient may, in expressing his confident hope that it will 'wear off,' declare that he has had the oatarrh for years and has not seemed to become much worso, and trusts he will 'by-and-by' recover. publican ticket. THE Democratic Council paid over $5000 a few days ago as a part payment on the worse than useless Richmond fire-alarm system. DURING January last, warrants were drawn upon the city cash fund for the sum of $22,549.22. The monthly aver-

As THE TIMES said yesterday, the nt of our fellow-citizen, Johnson, to the responsiant. E. P. J on of Brigadier-General of Brigade, N.G.C., will me lier-General of TODAY'S CONTEST.

Today will decide whether the government of this city, during the ensuing two years, shall be Republican or Democratic. We need not say what the latter eventually means. The fact that the gambling games are running regularly, contrary to law; that expenditures of the city funds have been reckless; that the undesirable element of the city is practically unanimous in favor of Bryson, should show the respectable member of Los Angeles society, the taxpayer, the propertyholder, the man who is here to stay, which way he should vote.

We are not so flush now as we were a couple of years ago. We cannot afford to throw money around in a reckless manner. If we do so, we shall find ourselves in a hole which it will be hard to climb out of. At the same time, we want necessary public improvements to be pushed ahead without needless delay. In short, we want a careful and at the same time publicspirited administration.

To which party shall we look for such an administration? Judging by the record of past years, and the evidence of current events, there can be but one possible answer-the Republican party. The men nominated on the Republican ticket are such as will carry out the principles of the party. If you desire good government, vote

As to the so-called Citizens' ticket, it is simply an auxiliary to the Democ-...... HENRY T. HAZARD racy. Whether intentionally so, or not, we will not undertake to say, but the effect is the same-the election of Bryson & Co. and the triumph of those with whom decent citizens do not care to associate. Whether you yote for Bryson or for Toberman matters practically nothing. The effect of either vote will be the same.

Above all, vote, and vote right! Campaign Methods.

The method pursued by THE TIMES in advocating the cause of the party which it represents differs considerably from that of the personal boodle organ on Spring street, which is anxious to be considered a Republican paper.

In the first place, we do not believe in the country-weekly style of taking each candidate seriatim, from Mayor to pound-keeper, and giving him-for coin-a laudatory notice of so many lines, accompanied with such antique and mouldy remarks as that "John Jones of course has an opponent, but the fact of the latter's existence will be forgotten on the evening of election day;" or that "Sam Smith is one of the strongest men on the ticket; a genial, whole-souled gentleman, who will wipe the floor with his Democratic opponent;" or that "the popular Tom Tanner will poll the entire vote of his party and three-fourths of that of the other side:" or that "when the sun goes down on election day, Robert Robinson, the able, well-known, popular, honest, competent, faithful gentlemanly, intelligent warhorse of the Seventeenth Ward will be found to have received more votes than the total population of his ward."

Such sickly stuff may possibly have some good effect, beyond raising a pitying smile or flattering the vanity of a shallow man, but it is difficult to see how it can be expected to make votes for the Republican party. THE TIMES believes in wasting no words in meaningless compliments, but ds of the Republican party, and in pointing out, in plain language, the course which leads to victory, and em phatically urging the party to follow it. This we have done, and are satisfied to know that our action is appreciated by the party-by nine-tenths of its mem

Secondly, we do not believe in aiding the Republican party by offering to der the Democrats has been worked sell out our paper to an outside Demo cratic sheet; or by trying to defeat a Republican candidate for County Treasurer for coin; or by offering to support a Democratic nominee for Mayor, in consideration of the pay-

It is, of course, possible that we are on the wrong tack in not doing all these things, but it will take considerably more than the assertion of a moribund boodle organ to convince us of that fact. Meantime, we shall continue to recommend honorable methods to honorable men, without regard to the opinions of liars, scoundrels, thieves and traitors, whose reputations are judicially valued at one dollar.

A Small Tail Trying to Wag a Big Dog.

Let us inquire a little what this "Citizens' Reform Committee" is, whose members are too pure to accept the Republican ticket, and who arrogate to themselves the selection of a ticket for the citizens of this city of 85,000 population, or thereabouts. One of the principal men who is named in connection with the movement is Dr. J. P. Widney. We published yesterday a statement by Dr. Widney's authority on this subject. He said that "The Citizens' Reform movement, which has been in the field for the past two years, is not in the field this campaign, and that its Executive Committee has taken and will take no part in the coming municipal content." Dr. Widney therefore disowns the present movement. Mr. Bosbyshell is another asserted

The Reverend Mr. Williams is a gentleman who has lived here but a few onths, and therefore ought not to count for very much as a factor in directing the votes of others. Col. G. Wiley Wells, another member, is-well, he is G. Wiley Wells, and his is a case of quien sabe?

C. H. Bradley is a Republican, will vote the Republican ticket, wants the own, and most distinctly dis-all connection with any other party than the Republican Reform party. His name has been used without his consent.

The Reverend W. B. Stradley is Southern Democrat, and cannot be expected to look with favor upon the Re- danger of arrest, and who is, therefore, publican ticket, though he is friendly to Mr. Hazard.

Then, there is Ulrich Knoch, a gentleman of very unsavory reputation, who is an active personal enemy of Hazard's, and therefore natually gravitates to a movement which, if not for Bryson, is certainly not against him, so far as practical results go. It will be remembered that, two years and a half ago, when Hazard was a candidate for State Senator, this man Knoch published a libelous handbill regarding him, which he refused to cease publishing even after indubitable proof of its falsity had been presented, whereupon Mr. Hazard, outraged beyond ontrol, strode into Knoch's printing office, "pied" the form, and with difficulty restrained himself from upsetting Knoch himself. Such, then, are the leading names given as the propagators of this moveent, which is theoretically for reform, but to all intents and purposes for the Democracy. Simmered down, it seems to resolve itself pretty much into "a d—d barren ideality," as Foghorn Allen would say—and Ulrich Knoch; the latter, as we have shown, a bitter, personal enemy of Hazard's, and whose itness to act as a leader of a reform party is not very apparent.

Are the solid, respectable Republican citizens of Los Angeles going to allow themselves to be led into the camp of the Democracy by these men, under the guise of reform? It is all nonsense to talk about electing a third man. Judge Widney and Ulrich Knoch know that; the other men who are behind the o-called citizens' movement know it: the people at large know it-everyone knows it, who is not blinded by prejudice and fanaticism. Should Mr. Bryson be elected today, and the gambling games be given a new lease of life for two years, it will be done by Republican votes, cast for Mr. Toberman. Will Republicans allow themselves to be used in so nalpable a manner? If so, the sooner they join the Democracy the better, for that is the party to which they naturally belong. A vote for Toberman is a vote for Bryson. You may argue for a year, but you cannot make it mean anything

A Desperate Expedient.

The fortunes of Hazard's political opponents must be desperate indeed old, exploded falsehood of 1886, contained in the handbill bearing the signature of a poor demented woman named "Mrs. Mary Larsen," and which was printed by Ulrich Knoch and circulated by the old woman, probably for hire, in the Senatorial campaign, when Hazard was the Republican candidate. The charge was, as may be remembered, that Hazard bad wronged her in a land matter. He promptly produced a certificate from the United States Land Office refuting the charge, setting the matter right, and completely exonerating Mr. Hazard. Yet the printing and circulating of the defamatory circulars went industriously on until stopped by force.

A revival, at this late day, of the absurd attack would be laughable, did it not show so much desperate vicious ness and reckless disregard of truth, honor and decency.

The circular may be on the streets today; if so, spot it!

THE Los Angeles Tribune, conducted by a person with a malodorous reputation, which has been judicially assessed at the value of one dollar. undertakes to impeach the political course of THE TIMES in its support of the Republican nominees, declaring it, in effect, to be not "gushing" enough in the estimation of the aforesaid per son. It will be a sufficient rejoinder to this charge for us to point out the fact that it comes from a political pre-tender and traitor, a proved liar, scoundrel, blackmailer and embezzler, who for coin betrayed the Republican candidate for Treasurer in the county election; who offered to betray the Re publican cause and support the Democratic candidate for Mayor in the pending contest, for the sum of thirtyfive hundred dollars; who offered to sell his moribund and doubly damned journal to a San Francisco Democratic newspaper proprietor; whose appointment has just been ignominiously forced out of the State Senate because of the infamous character of the appointee; and who is notorious for his personal as well as journalistic willingness to betray any body, any party or any cause, for political ends or private

WHAT we want is a Mayor and City council who will carry out a definite policy one in the interest of law and order and the best good of the community. We have had enough of Democratic rule to show us just what we may expect from them. Gamblers. saloon men and the lawless elemen generally are working for the election of the Democratic ticket. Will the law-abiding citizens of Los Angeles join hands with this class? The main issue of this election is a well-conducted city government, and on this the people will vote. Let it be recorded that Los Angeles is in favor of good government, the enforcement of the laws and the suppression of all ef those evils which militate against the good of society.

member of the committee. He also disclaims any connection with the movement.

The lovers of good government and of good morals have a duty to be performed today that cannot be slighted or overlooked. The Democratic party today has control of our municipal affairs, and under its authority gambling hells are multiplying and gamblers have no fear of the laws before them. There is no attempt made to suppress thorities. Open and unrebuked law-lessuess confronts us on every hand. Will those who have the welfare of our city and the good of community at heart vote with the party who winks at these eyils and ignores the authority such as the severy state in the Union. It will be noticed that the dismissal of Sackville by the United States Government was hinted at by Salisbury to Bayard as an easier drop for the British Minister than his removal by the home Government, so that Bayard was not, after all, such a bold, bad man as he chese to appear at that time to the Irish-American voters. The official correspondence is interesting, as giving a

Mr. Warde's interpretation of the character was great, and he rose to such heights of passion, power and pathos as to again demonstrate his right to be termed America's favorite artist. Mr. Warde was repeatedly called before the curtain, and, after continued applause, at the end of the third act was presented with an exquisite floral piece, and expressed his thanks in a few well-chosen words. Miss Adele Belgarde captivated the audience in a pretty boy's costume, and her charming acting, especially in the second act, when she saves the life of the tyrant, "Gesler."

The Commissioner says that it is apparent that the divorces granted for drunkenness—18,843—cannot in any sense of the word represent the total number in which drunkennesser intemperance is the serious factor. In a few representative counties

The House Committee on Agriculture has decided to report adversely the bilis introduced at the last session to "punish dealings in futures in agricultural products," and to prohibit fictitious and gambling tran astions on the price of articles produced by American farm industry, on the ground that Congress has no jurisdiction over the matter.

The Senate Committee on Public Lands today considered the bill providing that public lands now subject to private entry shall in future be disposed of only under the provisions of the homestead laws. It was decided to recommend non-concurrence in the house ansendments and to agree to the conference asked for by the House.

The Committee on Public Lands reported the Senate bill for the relief of settlers in Hettinger county, Dak., and it passed. The bill authorizes an exchange of lands "on which homestead settlements were made by mistake."

Mr. Stewart offered a resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Contingent Expenses, continuing the select Committee on Pacific Railroads until the indebtedness of all the companies to the Government shall be adjusted, and instructing the committee to examine personally

The Senate resumed consideration of the Sundry Civil Appropriation Bill.

All amendments reported from the committee have been acted upon. The Senate took up the amendment as to the printing of Government work by steam plate printing machines at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, which had been reserved yesterday. The amendment allows as royalty for the use of the machines, 50; cents per one thousand impressions, the ead of 1 cent as provided by the House. It strikes out the proviso of the bill on that subject, and substitutes for it the following: "And unless the patentees of said steam presses shall accept the rate per thousand sheets herein provided, said presses shall not be used by the Government after the close of the present fiscal year, provided that there shall not be an increase of the number of steam plate printing machines of the character now exployed in the Engraving and Printing Bureau."

A long discussion ensued, which was interrupted by the presentation by Mr. Platt of the conference report on the bill for the admission of South Dakota as a State and for the organization of the Territory of North Dakota.

The Clerk commenced the reading of the substitute agreed upon by the committee looking to the admission as States of North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana and Washington.

The committee, which was composed Italf of free-traders and half of tariff for revenue men, had wrestied over this matter for five hours, and finally as a compromise, offered the report as above, in two sections, that it might be conveniently divided. When the reading was over a lengthy wrangle ensued. Finally a vote was taken on the first section. It was carried almost unanimously.

The big debate was on the second part of the report. Henry George closed the fight for the free-traders, shouting that he was in favor of free and unrestricted trade.

The chairman finally put the question. Tremendous roars for and against went up, and the chairman shouted that the second part of the resolution was lost.

A storm of cries for division arose, but the chairman peremptorily declared a motion to adjourn in order. The free-traders will demand a reconsideration to-morrow.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—[By Cable and Asso-mated Press.] Before the Parnell Commision today, the cross-examination of Hous-on, secretary of the Irish Loyal and Patri-Union, continued. Witness said he royed Pigott's letters to him according ement between them. Witness did empt to secure any means of testing not attempt to secure any means of testing the genuineness of the letters by seeking to get the names of the men from whom Pigott got them. His part was done when he secured the letters. He had no means whatever of testing any part of Pigott's story, which he regarded as probable, especially as the newspaper reports of the dispute between Parnell and the American extremists to some extent confirmed Pigott's story. The letters were left in a bag found in a room in Paris. Witness saw Stead, editor of the Pail Mail Gazette, before he obtained possession of the letters, and asked him to take up the matter, as it would lead to disclosures. Stead said he lost £3000 by the publication of the "Modern Babylon" articles, and did not care to touch anything else unless sure it would be successful.

When witness visited Paris, he had no genuine specimens of either Parnell's or Egan's writing. He accepted the letters solely on Pigott's word. "If," said witness, "Pigott had been needy or frauduent enough to attempt to commit perjury, my action would have assisted him, but I do not admit that he was either. Pigott's interviews with Labouchere shook my faith in him, and therefore my mind was not easy until he had signed a sworn declaration."

HOW THE BROTHERHOODS WORKED. Honston said that between October 1886 the Times paid the bills from May, 1887. Prior to November, Pigott Informed witness that Whilehan, a Tultamore solicitor, had called upon him and informed him that a gentieman from America wanted to have an interview with him in London. He did not say the American came from Egan. Whilehan asked Pigott if he had any of Egan's letters, as he was prepared to purchase them at a high price. Pigott, when he wrote the witness demanding £5000, said he had been coerced in Soames's office into making a statement under false pretenses. Witness did not answer the letters. He had notes made by Pigott of the latter's conversation with Eugene Davis. According to these notes, Davis stated that Egan took him into his confidence. Davis knew that the Irish Revolutionary Brotherhood and Fenian Brotherhood were connected with the League, one working openly and the renian Brotherhood were connected with the League, one working openly and the other secretly, the "B.8" tinding men and the League finding money. Egan was in Paris with Parnell, O'Kelly, Dilion, Bren-nan and Harris in 1881. He told Davis he had had a long conference with those gen-tlemen, and that all had agreed that the situation rendered

REPRISALS AGAINST ENGLAND imperative, and that England's power could be neutralized only by removing as many of her leading men as possible. Waish, Sheridan and others were to be sent to Ireland to plan murders. Immediately after Parnell's arrest, Egan appealed to the Fenian leaders to execute the work more energetically. Egan was invariably consulted regarding projected outrages and murders. Egan strongly reproved Tynan for failing to appear at Kingsbridge in time to give the signal for Forster's murder. Davis was present in a café in Paris when Tynan related the whole history of the Phomix Park murders. Tynan took pride in having given the signal for the attack. Egan professed to be highly delighted, but regretted that Tynan had not commenced the work earlier. Egan gave Byrne a letter, a facsimile of which was published by the Times. There was a plot to murder the Prince of Wales and Gladstone during the carnival at Cannes. Byrne and Tynan of her leading men as possible. PIGOTT TESTIFIES. Richard Pigott, a well-dressed and benevolent looking man, apparently about 60 years of age, was then called. He testified that he was proprietor of a Fenisa organ, the Irishman, in 1886. He belonged to the Supreme Council of the Fenisa Brotherhood. All members of the amnesty associations in 1870 were fenisus. Parneil belonged, and about 1871 Biggar, Barry, Parris, Nearey, Mullett and Mirrphy belonged to the Supreme Council of the Irish Revolutionary Brotherhood. Witness belonged to the Irish Revolutionary Brotherhood. Witness belonged to the Irish Revolutionary Brotherhood until August, 1881. He detailed the negotiations in 1879 by which the Irishman and the Flag of Ireland were sold to a company in which Parnell and Egan were shareholders. He did not doubt that the league provided the money. Later, Egan said that he proposed to render the lives of English officials in Ireland not worth an hour's purchase, and, replying to a question, said, of course, Parnell was aware of this proposal. Directly after Egan's flight to Paris, witness received a letter, in which Egan asked for the address of Davis, who was a writer on the Irishman, and who had gone to Paris to prepare for the presshood.

One of the members, who has been prominent as an agitator, explained his unexpected vote in the affirmative by saying that he had been threatened with discharge if he did not leave the order. One of the ex-members of the division was asked what effect the wiping out of No. 321 would have upon the engineers of the Pennsylvania Railroad system. "I know they in common with the Reading engineers have been long since satisfied that the order has become powerless to protect their interests, and of late has been simply a means of taxing all of us enormously for the support of engineers thrown out of employment by the ill-advised and unsuccessful strike on the Burlington road, and I have no reason to believe but that they are tired of this, as we were. These are the reasons that principally caused us to disband." The man claimed to know nothing of the threatened discharge if they did not leave the order, and had no reason for leaving other than stated above. ing Railroad engine

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Mr Burke Not a Sack Holder. Los Angeles, Feb. 20.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] Please permit me to say in your columns that the several assertions in the Tribune of this morning connecting me as "Maj. W. R Burke-a title that does not belong to me, nor does any title by the waywith a "sack" compaign, are wholly untrue. Today I was annoyed beyond endurance by parties seeking aid for proffered political service. Mr. Bryson will bear me out in this denial of so grand a report, as will his secretary, Mr. Kohel. Mr. Edward S. Field, in the same office with me, will no doubt state that I today turned about a score of persons away who came to me with their professions of "influence," saying that I had no authority to disburse money, and would have none, under no circumstances, from any one. Respectfully, W. R. BURKE.

the fact that one Harry Hazard made a strong and effective fight in his behalf, and at a time when also I was a candidate for that high position.

Now that it is possible for the gallant Major to show a due appreciation of those services, it seems a little singular to find him in a state of antagonism by heading the ticket of a third party, which is no more nor less than an ally of the Democracy. Respectfully.

Three-fourths of our people are troubled with dyspepsia or liver complaint in some form or other, which by nature of the disease has a depressing influence on the misd or body, preventing them from thinking or acting clearly in any matter of importance. Indigestion, coming up of food after eating, dyspepsia, sick headache, acidity of the stomach or any derangement of the stomach or inver (upon which the whole action of our system depends) are speedily and effectually overcome by the use of Green's August Flower. The most stubborn cases have yielded to its influence, as thousands of letters received will testify. The immense sale of this medicine is another guarantee of its merits (over a million and a half bottles sold last year). So we ask, will it pay you to suffer from any of the above diseases when you can have immediate relief in the saugust Flower? Three doses will prove its worth. It is sold by all druggists and general dealers in the world.

The Annual Trade Number of THE TIMES, now ready, is the most complete and in tereating publication of that character ever published in Los Angeles.

MOTABLE FEATURES—It contains a business review of the year, embracing a great mass of valuable facts bearing on the city and county; a thorough exposition of our natural resources—mineral, vegetable, commercial and climatic; a review of the rise s d progress of the boom, with solid proofs that the country is now in better condition than it was during the beight of the real-estate axoisement; a carefully complied exposition of the varied induces cents which Southern California offers to the health-secker, the homsecker and the tourist, besides a number of interesting and valuable special articles on pertinent subjects. It contains more solid information about the country than could be crowded fato the compass of a hundred long letters, and for a few cents and the expenditure of a few minutes time in writing the address you can send a friend more in ownation than you could write in a month, even if you had all the facts at hand. For a foliar you can supply ten families in the frozen East with information that may lead them? Join the array of pligrims to Southern California, to their own and this country sadvantage. Thus, whether viewed from the standpoint of friendship or self-interes: "And be seen that no better use can be made of a dollar than by purchasing the rewith ten copies of the great Annual Trade Number of THE TIMES. Not one-tenth of the pleasure can be bestowed in any other way for the same amount of money.

William L. Price, 218 Temple street, Les Angeles: My wife tried several $75 manohimes and chose the Mirror Premium Sewing-machine as an equal to the best in the markot, for one-fourth of the memory. C. R. Spencer, Los Angeles: Having sold fundrede of the Remington Sewing-machines for 86, which you are now offering with the Werkly Minnon at 82, [25,56 when freight is paid to L's Angeles], I wish to say that the mashine you offer is identically the same as the high-priced article, both as to masterial, workmanship and capacity. Being a resident here and an experienced sewing-machine man, I will take pleasure in instructing any one in working the machine, in this place or vicinity.

Mrs. J. W. Stringfield. Pomona: The High arm Mirror Sewing-machine came in good time, in excellent condition, without scratch or blemish, and I am delighted with it. #### AN APPEAL

Founded on a Turkey and Taken to a Bigh Tribunal.

Yesterday an appeal case from Justice Austin's court came up before Judge Clark of the Superior Court. It was the case of The People vs. Maria Andrea, Last July defendant was living on New High street, engaging in the business of keeping a house of ill repute. On July 15th, an old colored couple missed a turkey, which they located, as they thought, in her yard. They applied for admission to identify the turkey and got "cussed." Police officers turkey and got "cussed." Police officers were called in, and were admitted, but, of course, could not tell whose turkey it was. They left and the affair culminated in the wrest of Maria for disturbing the peace. Officers Hawley and Wheaton escorted her to jail. She was tried by Justice Austin, who fined her $100. The case was appealed, and has hung fire for several months, finally coming up yesterday. Several witnesses were examined yesterday, but the case was not concluded, and will be resumed this morning.
